

How to create your member login

Why? To get access to member-priced events, subscribe to Connector and get prepared for future content.

Step 1.

Open the form to create an account. Fill in your basic details (title, name and email address) making sure to use your corporate email address as this links your account with your company's membership.

<input type="text" value="yourname@email.com.au"/>	<input type="submit" value="Submit"/>
--	---------------------------------------

Step 2.

Choose your username and fill out the remainder of your personal details. You will also get to choose your preferences for events, speaking opportunities, topics of interest, profile visibility (minimal, member-only or public), and you can subscribe to the AIIA's Connector monthly newsletter.

Profile visibility

Choose who can see your profile on the membership section of the AIIA website. Minimal hides your account from everyone, member-only allows AIIA members with logins to see your account, and public allows anyone to view your account.

Connector subscription

Connector is the AIIA's monthly newsletter that showcases a wide range of announcements, events, activities, thought leadership, and much more. Tick the subscribe box to stay connected.

All that's left to do is read the terms and conditions and hit the "Commit" button to connect with the AIIA. Click here to start creating your AIIA account.